

KGBA Recommended Test Plans

These are the most common test plans recommended by the KGBA. Other plans may be accepted by the KGBA, please contact us for further details on *M eligibility or requirements.

Standard DHI 20

- Basic test plan. Supervisor weighs and samples both milkings on test day. Individual animal Verification Test (VT) required for does with an actual projection of 2000lbs of milk or more.

O/S 40

- Owner/Sampler weighs and samples each month and is responsible for sending in samples and paperwork. For Star recognition, a minimum DCR of 75 is required PLUS a herd verification test when the herd is 60-150 Days in Milk. In addition, the animal must have 240 days in milk, 8 tests and the owner must provide documentation to the KGBA regarding training.

Group

- A group of three or more people can test each other's herd. Supervisor weighs and samples both milkings on test day. Groups with more than three members may have non-goat owning members as long as there are a minimum of three herds involved. All members must use the same test plan and be trained as a DHI technician.
