

Gestation Table

This table is based on the average gestation period of 150 days. Most does kid within five days of this schedule one way or the other (145 to 155 days). Please account for the entire range when planning for your new arrivals.

The table below follows the average and indicates the date to expect kidding, and the month that they will be 12 weeks old – the age at which most people sell their kids or send them to market.

To determine the due date, take the bred date and subtract the number of days listed after the month in the middle column. Kids will be ready for weaning and sale on around the same day of the month listed in the third column.
